DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

A necessary recitation of a computer-readable storage medium carrying the program instructions is not provided in the claim. A computer program claim specifically amended to cover something other than the suggested "computer-readable storage medium carrying program instructions" is presumably intended to cover a non-statutory expression of the claimed program. Applicant's amendment reciting a "physically-embodied, executable computer program" in response to the previous Office action's same grounds of rejection is presumably to provide a different scope than that provided by the Office action's suggested "computer-readable storage medium carrying program instructions", however it is unclear how the present scope should be considered different from that provided by the suggested language except to include the mere printing or writing of the claimed computer instructions on paper or the like, where "executable" merely means that the program is correct and so would function as desired when actually implemented on a "computer-readable storage medium".

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-10 are allowed.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
